

Logeswaran Pushpurlingam - Write Up

As an Occupational Safety and Health Officer, my priority is to always provide a safe working environment for workers. Safety Induction for all new workers, weekly toolbox briefings, trainings, safety and health committee meetings and daily site inspection conducted regularly. I made sure to educate and create awareness among workers on the importance of safety and health at the worksite since workers influence safety and health through their actions. They are often the best people to understand the risks on the worksite. Besides that, I will identify and mitigate hazards at the worksite and that has been helpful to reduce lost time injury, improve efficiency, productivity and at the same time, be able to provide a satisfactory working environment for workers. A satisfactory working environment not only benefits the workers, but also the employers. I had also promoted and explained the importance of the vaccination to workers. I have coordinated and arranged for vaccination for almost 1000 workers. Vaccination has helped the community to break the pandemic transmission and help the industry to return to normal. Indirectly, employers able to get back to business and workers' wellbeing including their family needs are being taken care of. I have conducted multiple trainings on Safety, Health and Environmental to workers to improve the workers knowledge and capability.